A Tale of Two Sabbaticals

Brian Beaudrie

Northern Arizona University

Abstract

My 2017-2018 sabbatical had two major components, each very different from the other. In the fall, I assisted the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, North Dakota, as they began offering four redesigned mathematics courses in the Math Active Learning Lab (MALL), their version of our Lumberjack Mathematics Center (LMC). In the spring while living in Brasschaat, Belgium, I worked on various projects, including analyzing LMC data concerning success rates of various subgroups of students in LMC courses. This presentation will discuss these items and more.
